TESTAMENT OF MENTORS: Feminist Engagement in Academia

An occasion of
SPEAKERS,
WORKSHOPS &
ENCOURAGEMENT

What does it mean to accompany one another? How do we enable each other to flourish? How has mentoring been part of the change in the academy that has seen more women and other non-traditional leaders emerge in some disciplines? How does theology compare to the wider academy in Australia and internationally?

What does the abundant relationship of being a mentor and being mentored change about our understanding of ourselves in relation to other people and in our many contexts?

Inaugural Janette Gray Lecture A TAPESTRY OF WOVEN THREADS

In honour of
Dr Janette Gray RSM

The title of this lecture was born out of an immersion into the theology of Janette Gray, its richness and its diversity: from celibacy to ecology to theological anthropology and much more.

It is against this backdrop, and occasional dialogue with Janette Gray's work that I undertake a reading of Matthew 19 and its tapestry of woven threads, threads of complex human relationships. The lens I bring to this task is one that Jan brought to celibacy—an ecological perspective.

Elaine Wainwright is Professor Emeritus of the University of Auckland and Adjunct Faculty Member of the Broken Bay Institute, Sydney. She is a New Testament Scholar specializing in the Gospel of Matthew to which she brings a feminist and ecological perspective and on which she has published widely. She is a member of the Institute of the Sisters of Mercy of Australia and Papua New Guinea and served with Janette Gray on its Circle of Mercy Theologians.
